

Canada's Future STEM Leaders

- Science, Technology,
 Engineering and Mathematics
 (STEM) skills are critical to Canada's future success
- STEM skills are at the core of the RCEME mission
- RCEME history is a unique collection of STEM knowledge and technical leadership
- One of the Foundation's long term strategies is STEM youth education including bursaries and an online education portal

Who We Are

The RCEME Corps

- The Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers were formed in May 1944
- RCEME applies innovation and technical skills to maintain and repair complex military equipment

The RCEME Foundation

- The RCEME Heritage and Museum Foundation is a registered, charitable, notfor-profit organization
- Our Mission is to preserve RCEME Heritage, celebrate our rich legacy and to educate the Canadians

Our Heritage Will Slip Away, Unless ... we preserve it to ensure it is not lost forever, if not:

- Our heroes and their stories will largely be forgotten
- Their medals will be misplaced and lost
- Our artifacts will degrade beyond repair
- Future generations will become less aware of our history
- The heroes of our storied past will fade away ...

Our Future is a Hybrid Digital Museum

- Preserving RCEME Heritage requires the use of modern digital tools
- Being online allows our Museum to be available to anyone, anywhere, at anytime
- We are curating and digitizing thousands of RCEME archives, photos and videos which will be available online

Our Digital Museum

- The RCEME Museum's new Website allows everyone to access our online projects
- The Book of Remembrance honours more than 360 RCEME soldiers who died in the line of duty since WWII, Korea, and on Peacekeeping operations
- The RCEME Stories recount heroic and memorable events in the history of the RCEME Corps
- Our next project will help visitors find information on RCEME members who were honoured with Orders, Decorations and Medals for outstanding service to Canada
